

Gettysburg – The High Water Mark

Imagine yourself in the midst of 165,000 soldiers on a hot July day in 1863. Stand where General Lee stood as he watched 15,000 of his men march across a mile-wide field towards the center of the Union line on Cemetery Ridge. Imagine the largest battle ever fought on this continent, and its 51,000 casualties.

Join the Cool Spring Travelers as they tour the Gettysburg National Cemetery where Abraham Lincoln gave the famed Gettysburg Address see the 42 feet high, 377 feet around Cyclorama of the Battle, and the introductory film, A New Birth of Freedom, at the Gettysburg National Military Park Visitors Center or spend a few hours shopping at the Gettysburg Outlet Mall.
